MR. ATTORNEY GENERAL EATON.

We take pleasure in copying from the Warrenton News the following deservedly complimentary notice name heads this article .

"MR. ATTORNEY EATON. To those acquainted with the varied attainments, both legal and literary, of this accomplished gentleman, we need not say that ardyous duties of the important station which has been assigned him. Mr. Eaton possesses in an eminent degree a combination of virtue and talent which pedefatigable industry and energy all unite to render him one of the first men of his age in Carolina.

We were pleased at first to learn his appointment to the office of attorney general of the State for many reasons. We knew in the first place, that no better officer could be secured from the number of able and competent Lawyers in North Carolina; and in the second place we were sure that the people within the limits of the circuit as well as throughout the State, when they became as well acquainted as the people in this section of the State with his rare endowments and professional merit, would be inspired with admiration of him, both as a man and an officer. We are pleased to learn that he has won golden opinions from all men of all parties by his firm, ble, impartial, and dignified administration of the duties of his station, and we know that he will continue to merit the approbation of an enlightened and moral public sentiment. Mr. Eaton has the head to perceive, and the moral courage to do what is right; whilst he possesses in his bosom a heart that feels even for those who do wrong. We learn that a distinguished gentleman of the Bar said of him a few days ago that he was, all qualifications being consideted, one of the best officers the State had. This compliment, emanating from the source whence it sprung, compises the highest eulogium. We are glad to hear him spoken of in these high terms of commendation, for his worth is equalled only by .his extreme modesty."
